

Craig Wellspring

Software Developer and Game Designer

ABOUT ME

I've been interested in computer programming since I discovered game modding as a young teenager and have continued to practice my coding skills in my spare time until today. I've worked in a diverse set of environments which has given me a broad and balanced perspective and an affirmation that software development is my real passion.

TECHNICAL EXPERIENCE

Nashville Software School – July 2021 – June 2022

An intensive one-year program teaching the skills and technologies necessary to become a full-stack software developer in today's tech environment.

- Git & Github version control
- Remote project collaboration, simulated agile work environment
- ERDs, dependency charts, wireframe design
- Developing applications using popular tech stacks that include React, ASP.Net, and SQL

PROJECTS

Housekeeper – NSS Front-End Capstone Project
